TruTextures™ Surfaces

TruTexture™ Surfaces are unique textured sheets produced by Textures LLC in Somerset, Wisconsin using patented surface replication technology that accurately reproduces surfaces, where every nuance of texture is faithfully reproduced down to the size of a human hair. Although the technology was originally used to create exact replicas of the surfaces and imagery of fine art oil paintings, many other diverse product applications have also been identified. They include picture matting, frame coverings, placemats, wall coverings, furniture surfaces, decorative components for fashion items such as handbags and clothing embellishments; and many other applications where three dimensional texture is desired.

TruTexture™ Surfaces is now available as sheets in bold new textures for use in a variety of crafting related applications. TruTexture™ sheets for crafting applications are comprised of naturally occurring and man-made textures that range in depth from near zero to seven millimeters. Examples of natural textures are stone surfaces, wood surfaces, collages of grasses and leaves, and the like.

Currently Textures, LLC offers eight color-able/antique-able textured sheets through its TruTexture™ product line which are: Artisan, Barnwood, Crackle, Stone, Grass Cloth, Palette Knife, Verona, and Slate. Custom textures are also available.
